Conflicts of interest

Regarding the promotion, intermediation and conclusion of the policy, Lombard International Assurance is not in a situation of conflict of interest.

Nevertheless, there could be situations on occasion which might present an unavoidable situation of conflict of interest. In these situations, if all organisational and administrative provisions that have been taken are not sufficient to ensure that risks of damage to Policyholder interests will be prevented, Lombard International Assurance will provide the concerned Policyholder with a specific description of the conflict of interest. This communication will disclose the general nature and where applicable, the source of such conflict of interest, as well as the risks that arise as a result and steps undertaken to mitigate these risks. Lombard International Assurance will also clearly state that the organisational and administrative arrangements established by the insurer to prevent or manage the conflict of interest are not sufficient to ensure, with reasonable confidence, that risks of damage to the interests of the customer will be prevented.

Examples of these situations may include the execution of a variety of activities, including (i) investment activity, divestment of Eligible Assets, and/or (ii) connected activities such as deposit or management.

These activities could arise, for example, when the issuer of Eligible Assets, the Investment Managers, or the Custodian Bank are bound to Lombard International Assurance by business relations or make part of the same group.

Lombard International Assurance has defined a procedure to identify, prevent and manage those situations of conflict of interest. In particular, this procedure is designed to:

- (a) identify the situations of conflict of interest;
- (b) prevent and manage potential conflicts of interest;
- (c) inform Policyholder about potential situations of conflict of interest that might harm their interests;
- (d) register conflicts of interest.

The Distributor and the Policyholder can request and obtain from Lombard International Assurance additional information about the procedure related to conflicts of interest and obtain a copy of the document that lays out the procedure.

Product Approval process

The Product Approval process applies the right balance of control, depth of detail in documentation and challenge depending on the risk assessment of the product and market at stake. The process is made up of several stages and each stage has a set of activities and decisions associated.

Idea Generation

This stage of the process is to develop an understanding of customer, commercial and/or compliance needs and to start to develop a concept that meets these needs.

Idea Screening

Based on the information acquired, a formal decision is made on that basis whether the requested development is being taken to the next stage.

Planning & Due Diligence

Should the idea succeed to the screening stage, the project plan will be drafted with a number of specific development steps to go through to build the product/service. It will be shared with all stakeholders asking them to approve deadlines and resource needs.

The results of this preliminary analysis and recommendations will be presented to the Product Oversight Committee who is delegated its authority from the Executive Committee and will decide whether the requested development will be taken to the next stage of development.

Development

Following the Product Oversight Committee's agreement to develop the product, the Product Development Team will proceed with the development phase, which includes, but is not limited to: setting up the products, system integration testing and risk mitigations actions on the identified risks.

In this framework, the Target Market, compatible with the product under development is identified and a Product Testing is performed.

Risks for Policyholders

Lombard International Assurance is subject to Luxembourg legislation governing the protection of insurance-linked assets. The underlying assets of its policies are segregated from the Insurer's own assets and liabilities and are deposited with an independent credit institution with the approval of the insurance regulator, the Commissariat aux Assurances. All such assets, other than cash deposits, are required to be held off-balance sheet at the credit institution.

In the unlikely event of the failure of Lombard International Assurance, policyholders have a super-preferential right over the value of underlying assets. Furthermore, policyholders have a preferential right, which overrides any other right, except those defined by law, over the assets of the Insurer in the event that the segregated pool of underlying assets is not sufficient to cover all insurance claims. The above asset protection regime is neither a compensation scheme nor a guarantee scheme. Investment risk in the underlying assets, including from the failure of an asset issuer or other investment counterparty, is borne by the policyholder.

The Policyholder bears the risk associated with the negative performance of the assets underlying the Units of the Funds linked to the policy, the "Fund".

The typical financial investment risks to which the Policyholder is exposed can be summarised as follows:

- (a) Specific risk and Systematic risk: this risk is typical of the equity securities (e.g. shares) in which the Fund invests, and is linked to the variability of their prices, which reflect both the market outlook regarding the issuer's economic performance (specific risk) and fluctuations in the markets on which the instruments are traded (generic risk);
- (b) Credit risk: this risk is typical of the debt securities (e.g. bonds) in which the Fund invests, and is linked to the possibility that the issuer may be unable to pay the interest or repay the principal; the value of the security, and therefore of the respective Fund, reflects this risk by fluctuating as the issuer's credit conditions change;
- (c) Interest risk: this risk is also typical of the debt securities in which the Fund invests, and is linked to the variability of their prices due to fluctuations in market interest rates; the longer these fluctuations last, the more pronounced the impact on the prices of the securities and therefore, on the yields, especially in the case of fixed-income securities - a rise in market rates will cause a fall in the price of the security, and therefore of the respective Fund, and vice versa.
- (d) Counterparty risk: the risk that the issuer or counterparties will be unable to meet their obligations;
- (e) Liquidity risk: the risk that the securities in which the Fund invests may not be readily convertible into cash without a loss of value, when necessary. This depends primarily on the characteristics of the market on which the security is traded;
- (f) Exchange risk: the risk of fluctuations in the exchange rate of the Policy currency, namely EUR, against the Fund Currency and any other currency of denomination of the assets in which the Funds' assets are denominated;

- (g) Country risk: the risk linked to investments in foreign markets, particularly emerging markets, where the political and/or economic situation of the issuer's country or the relevant regulations may offer lower levels of guarantee and protection for the Policyholder.
- (h) Derivative investment risk: this risk is typical of the derivatives in which the Funds may invest, and is linked to the variability of their prices due to (i) the leverage associated with them, (ii) the creditworthiness of the counterparties involved, and/or (iii) the potential illiquidity of the markets on which they are traded (particularly in the case of instruments not traded on regulated markets or "over the counter"). Where derivatives are used for hedging purposes, the investment risk is linked to price variability arising from insufficient correlation with the value of the underlying asset or of the hedged position.

Client Vulnerability

The Target Market of the product may include clients with vulnerabilities or who may develop vulnerabilities over the course of their investment in the product. Such vulnerabilities may affect a client's judgement and/or decision making capabilities. Therefore, it is important that these vulnerabilities are assessed and taken into account during the advice process both at the initial sale and over the lifetime of a policy.

Vulnerabilities may be exhibited more frequently by clients with the following characteristics:

- The language of the client differs from the language of the product,
- Elderly,
- Young/Minor,
- Dependency (poor digital skills or no digital access),
- Incapacity (curatelship).

Lombard International Assurance has a defined procedure to support fair treatment and positive outcomes for clients who may have specific needs. These include the appointment of an internal Vulnerability Champion who ensures ongoing staff training and awareness and provides specific support when needed.

Intermediaries/Distributors who seek additional guidance or support to identify or serve vulnerable clients may contact Lombard International Assurance for assistance.

Before providing advice to clients, distributor must obtain relevant information from the client regarding its personal financial situation, demands needs and objectives in order to provide appropriate advice.

The requirements of the client, drawn up via his financial position, investment horizon, investment objective and his knowledge and experience of financial investments result in his investment profile. The distributor needs to gather it before the client subscribe the policy or in “other” circumstances such as a change in his situation which might have an influence on his investment profile.

Where the distributor and the client have agreed that the service will be carried out on a regular basis, the suitability assessment must be reviewed at least annually. The insurer does not currently provide periodic assessments on a systematic basis.
